

Indian Film Stars to Partner with CSC to Propagate the Cause of Developmental Disabilities in India

Indian Film Icons Rituparna Sengupta and Roopa Ganguly have shown keen interest in propagating the work of CSC in India.

Both the above actors were attending the premiere of Piyalir Password in Maryland on April 4, 2009. The premiere of this film was sponsored by Center for Social Change to create awareness among the Indian Diaspora to the plight of individuals with Developmental Disabilities in India.

“I can assure Center for Social Change that we will work with you to ensure that the underprivileged children in India diagnosed with Developmental Disabilities receive the expertise from CSC,” said Rituparna Sengupta.

Echoing similar sentiments, veteran actor Roopa Ganguly appealed to the packed audience to “step forward and contribute generously.” “If we don’t rise up to the challenge, who will? Roopa asked the audience. “I will do my very best to see that we work together with CSC in India, particularly in West Bengal to serve individuals with Developmental Disabilities.

Piyalir Password was also screened in Detroit and New Jersey. The film will be screened in San Francisco, New York, Chicago soon.
